Adherium Builds Senior Leadership Team with New Chief Operating Officer and New Head of Corporate Development

Melbourne, Australia, 4 August 2016: Adherium has appointed its new Chief Operating Officer, Ross Bradding, and a new Head of Corporate Development, Julia Chambers.

Ross joins Adherium from First NZ Capital (FNZC). With his 25+ years of global experience with international Tier 1 banks, including Goldman Sachs, Credit Suisse First Boston, Industrial Bank of Japan, and FNZC, Ross brings exceptionally strong international financial services expertise to Adherium. After eleven years in London and two years in Sydney, Ross returned to New Zealand in 2003. From 2007 until recently, Ross was the Chief Operating Officer – Securities at FNZC, where he was responsible for enhancing the operating model of FNZC’s Securities business and managing the Auckland Wealth Management advisory team.

“Joining such a dynamic company as Adherium with its rapid global growth is an exciting challenge, and I very much look forward to working with the team to help shape the business for the opportunities ahead” said Bradding.

Julia joins Adherium from Callaghan Innovation, with more than 20 years’ experience in the global life science industry, working in sectors such as pharmaceuticals and biotechnology. Julia has significant commercial experience in the Bio-pharmaceutical sector; joining Genzyme in 2002, Julia ultimately became Senior Director of Commercial Assessment, focusing on the identification and acquisition of external innovation through licensing, partnerships and M&A. Prior to Genzyme, Julia spent six years in various sales and marketing roles with Eli Lilly UK. Upon coming to New Zealand in 2014 until recently, Julia was a Business Innovation Advisor with Callaghan Innovation.

“I’m delighted to be joining the Adherium team at what is an incredibly exciting time and look forward to making a significant contribution to the growth of the Company” Chambers said.

Sutherland, Group CEO of Adherium, said today: “It is great to have these pivotal roles filled by Ross and Julia. Their expertise and experience will substantially help the Company increase its scale rapidly.”

ABOUT ADHERIUM

Adherium (ASX:ADR) is an Australian Securities Exchange listed company which develops, manufactures and supplies digital health technologies which address sub-optimal medication use and improve health outcomes in chronic disease.
